

18 November 2009

Christmas shopping gets easier in Rugby with FREE parking

Everyone is counting down the shopping days left until Christmas is here and to help make life a little easier visitors will be able to come to Rugby Town Centre to do their festive shopping and park for FREE. On every Saturday and Tuesday in December before Christmas the John Barford Multi Storey Car Park will be available from 10am for FREE parking.

Starting on Tuesday 1st December up until Christmas Day this will be the only free car park in town. Sunday's will also see free parking all day in the Multi Storey. With all the festivities and events happening in the town centre this year including Santa's Grotto and the Christmas Tree Festival, visitors will be able to enjoy everything on offer at their leisure.

"We hope that it makes life a little easier for people who are coming to enjoy the shopping and fantastic festive activities taking place during December. We want to see more families visiting our town this Christmas, whether it's to see Santa with the kids or go Christmas shopping with friends," said Aftab Gaffar, Operations Director at Rugby BID. "Our thanks must go to Rugby Borough Council who made this possible once again."